"LYRICS OF LOYALTY."*

Here is a thorough Yankee book. The muse that inspired it, it is plain from every page, lurks about Plymouth Rock and feeds on cod-fish balls. The "lyrics" are in every possible metre and present every shade of Abolition folly and devilishness. Here, a young "Yank" at Harvard grows as tearful over the slow progress of our armies as though he were weeding the family onion-patch in Weathersfield. The venerable maiden who sounds this dirge is as blue as the lights which her daddy hung out to the British in the war of 1812.

On this page we are invoked to

Arm! Arm! for Liberty"—

by an opulent sutler who sounds his trumpet from a frame palace in the suburbs of Bunker Hill, purchased with the profits of bad whiskey and unmerchantable eggs. A wretched divine who, in peaceful times, wandered empty among his parental crags, white at the elbows and shiny and threadbare at the knees, now fattening on his collections for the Christian Commission, and wild with the strange sensation of wearing cloth with the nap on, shouts, in his glee,

"Go forth to the battle, ye sons of the Lord"

The touching lines

"A brand is on thy brow,
"A mark is on thy breast,"

carry us back to the times when the benevolent passengers of the Mayflower and their children, propagated their faith by burning witches and roasting Quakers, thus, at one felicitous stroke, reducing the number of heretics, and strking awe into those who were left, with rehearsals of the agonies of Hell.

The bard who sings—

"They have gone to the South,
Will they ever return?"

leaves us in some doubt as to the meaning. It is probable, however, that he refers to the niggers which his grandfather sold into Virginia, when slavery ceased to pay in Massachusetts. Burley Doolittles and Perkenpines, exempted by some friendly surgeon for weak eyes, confirmed corns, or incipient colic, cry out in their exuberant patriotism—

"Who stands aloof, when Freedom calls?"—

In a word, we have here a choir of decayed preachers, weak-legged young collegians, angular maidens and miscellaneous sneaks, bawling out to their neighbors to "Rouse!" "Strike!" "Arm!" "March!" and perform other martial antics, while these loyal warblers remain peacefully perched at home, fattening on the plunder of a war in which they have shed nothing but ink, and spent nothing but breath.

One of the most vociferous songsters in the book is Mr. Theodore Tilton, editor of the New York Independent, who it will be remembered, wrote, last summer, a thrilling editorial upon the cowardice and absolute treason involved in tendering three hundred dollars to the government when it "asks life." Scarcely was the ink dry upon Mr. Tilton's essay when an unlucky turn of the wheel cast up his name, and he was duly enrolled among the army of conscripts. Of course he marched—yes, he did—he marched right up to the exemption office and paid his three hundred dollars, and got his papers, and hastened back to his snug sanctum, and composed the lines entitled "God save the Nation—a War Hymn"—to be found on page 71 of this book. One stanza of this valorous bard's Hymn will suffice as a specimen:

"Slay thou our foes or turn them to derision,
Then in the blood-red Valley of decision
Make the land green with peace, as in a vision."(!)

We would suggest to Friend Tilton (of course he is a Quaker pro tem.) an additional verse, to be inscribed to those of his fellow conscripts of whom the government "asks life," and who hadn't three hundred dollars to give in lieu thereof:

"Fight, you poor devils! slay the traitors who he mp shun,
While I, in the soft-cushioned Seat of Exemption;
Peacefully shout for the nigger's redemption."

There is a string of verses on page 50, entitled "The Volunteer's Wife to her Husband," which are eminently suggestive. She says:

"Don't stop a moment to think, John,
Your country calls—then go,
Don't think of me or the children, John,
I'll care for them, you know.
Leave the corn upon the stalks, John,
Potatoes on the hill,
And the pumpkin on the vines, John,
I'll gather them with a will.
But take your gun and go, John,
Take your gun and go,
For Ruth can drive the oxen, John,
And I can use the hoe."

Cartoons are wanted for the Capital, we believe. Here is a subject for one. John can be represented in the foreground, in a ragged uniform, with his toes out, installing a richly dressed family of negroes in the mansion-house of their exiled master, while his wife and Ruth are seen in the distant back-ground, Ruth driving an ox-team and Mrs. John vigorously plying a hoe. John's children, of course, will be introduced, weeding the potatoes barefoot and with prominent shirt-tails. We conceive that a picture such as this would do more to encourage enlistments than even the present bounty system. The prospect of elevating millions of enthralled blacks to luxury, laziness and good clothes, would doubtless inspire the heart of every Northern matron and make her willing to sacrifice her husband and go starved and ragged with her little flock through the whole thousand years of the Abolition millennium. The old maid who wrote these lines ought to have a pension. Forney is one of the bards of this book and sets up a loyal and metrical yelp from his well-appointed kennel. His poetry, as becomes his peculiar position, is of the doggerel kind.

Here is a specimen. The title of the piece is "The Men who fell in Baltimore."

"Next came the Massachusetts men,
Gathered from city, glade and glen—
No hate for South, but love for all,
They answered to their country's call
The path to them seemed broad and bright,
They souget no foeman and no fight,
As on they marched, the flag before,
New England's braves through Baltimore."

The reflections on the Massachusetts troops contained in the line which we italicise is not the only noticeable thing in the ditty of the "Dog."—There was another memorable transit through Baltimore which has certainly made as much noise as that of the New England soldiers, and having been performed by Forney's master should have elicited at least a passing howl from the kennel. We venture to supply this omission, though we cannot, of course, rival the canine melody of the original:

Not seated in special car
As great men usually are,
But hid among the trunks away,
Our Washington the Second lay.
In Scotian cap and lengthy cloak,
Too badly scared to try a joke,
While Treason panted for his gore,
Our Abraham sneaked through Baltimore!

These lines are not copy-righted and Forney is at liberty to append them to future editions of his song.

The poem entitled "A Cavalry Charge" (p. 28) was evidently written by some harmless youth who has obtained his ideas of that branch of the service at an adjoining livery stable.—Hear him—

"And the grim-visaged Colonel,
With ear-rending shout
Peals forth to the squadrons
The order 'Trot out!' "

Aother verse would indicate that the author is in the medical line—probably wielding the pestle for some country practitioner. With true esprit du corps he makes moan over the ill-considered blows which cheat the profession of its fees:

"The wounds that are dealt
By that murderous steel
Will never yield case
For the surgeon to heal."

On page 38 a bereaved poet who, but for the company in which we find him, might be suspected of disloyalty, cries out to his Abolition brethren,

"Ye wise men who have made this war
To set all mankind free
Oh know you not this boy of mine
Was all the world to me?"

And adds:

"Yet they whose sons are safe at home,
May take far different views
And cry aloud 'More blood—more blood'—
Oh God! send me good news."

We object to this poem, not on account of its literary shortcomings, but because of the manifest comfort it offers to the "Copperheads."—If bards of Unconditional loyalty sing thus, what is to be expected of those traitors in our midst who are clamoring for the "Union as it was," and a disgraceful peace on the basis of the old Constitution?

From cover to cover this is an Abolition book. No patriotism is recognized save the kind which consists or finds its highest development in stealing and landing negroes. The pages that are not devoted to praise of Massachusetts are bespattered with false and fulsome stuff about African valor—the "bondman"—the "Lord's deliverance"—the "flag of Christ" and like nonsense and blasphemy. John Brown, horse thief, murderer and vagabond, who closed his career of blood and theft on the gallows—who, by the laws of every nation on the globe, civilized and uncivilized, had forfeited his life, is thus canonized by one of these codfish laureates:

"A prophet's soul in fire came down
To live in the voice of Old John Brown;
The eye of God looked down and saw
A just life lost by an unjust law."

The blasphemous freedom with which the Abolitionists use the sacred name of God, Lord and Christ is not the least remarkable thing in their literature Every devilish and fanatical scheme, whether of blood or plunder, which they propose, they coolly announce as the "Lord's own," "God's great work," or "Christ's deliverance." The theology of the most of them may be briefly summed up in the language of the "Liberator," their organ and oracle: "If God Almighty has the power to abolish slavery and does not do so immediately, He is a very great scoundrel." They are intensely pious at present in view of the large bodies of negroes to whom our armies have opened the gateway from slavery to starvation. They are immensely patriotic in view of the money, which is being poured into their pockets by the government at the expense of the rest of the land, for the product of their shop and looms. Piety and patriotism will vanish together as fugitives and contracts grow scarce, and New England will swarm after the war, as it did before, with blatant infidels and howling traitors.

There is a good deal of stuff scattered through this book which, in view of the peaceful and retiring disposition of the authors, and their aversion to any personal contact with arms, is rather amusing. For instance:

"With sword on thigh, to do or die,
I march to meet the foe."

And again,

"Lock the shop and lock the store,
Chalk this upon the door,
'We've enlisted for the war'—

Still another minstrel, now doing picket duty on Boston Common, thus sternly reproaches Copperherds, and invokes the loyal to share his perils amid the frog-haunted puddles of that classic outpost:

"Cowards slink away;
But who scorns to see the foe
Deal our land all shame and woe
Must go forth to-day."

We venture our word upon it that the varlets who have ground out this and pages more of doggerel in the same strain, are attached, every one of them, either to Gov. Andrew's "swarm" or to Horace Greeley's "Nine hundred thousand." These gigantic armies are not expected to move until the approach of the rebels, when they will doubtless head towards Canada at a pace wkich will shame M'Clellan's tortoise march on Richmond.

There is a little ballad on page 55 in which a loyal infant is the speaker. It begins:

"Willie stood at the window—
Little Willie of five years old—
Watching the rainbow colors
As they fade in the Sunset's gold."

Willie then makes the precocious remarks that some of the clouds are red and some of them white, whereas the sky is blue, and concludes with this logical and tuneful piece of reasoning:

"And away up the sky
Is such a bright little star:
Why God is for the Union,
Isn't He, mamma?"

We suggest as a fit conclusion of the stanza,

My darling little patriot child
I'll write that to your Par.

The death of a young soldier is thus feelingly described on page 164:

"Though he neither sighs nor groans
"Death is busy with his bones."

Here is one of those little rhyming tricks familiar to every poor devil who has ever tried to cap verses. The author having writtin the first line.

"Though he neither sighs nor groans," scratched his head for a rhyme. He thought of stones, lones, hones, tones, and at last hit on "bones," and proceeded to eke out the line with feet enough to fill up. Had not accident or the muse suggested that lucky word "bones" to him, the lines would probaly have read,

Though he neither sighs nor groans
He is nursed by Mrs. Jones.

Rhyme is an exacting mistress and Jones is a handy word. We conceive that in this case he would have rivalled the melody of bones.

Mr. Richard Storrs Willis, brother of the scented bard N. P., inquires in some rather poor verses.

"Standing yet are Sumter's walls—
Why, Northmen, why?
Slumbering yet thy avenging balls—
Why, Northmen, why?
Charleston left to scoff at ease,
Richmond vaunting as it please,
Traitor-taunts on every breeze—
Why, Northmen, why?"

To which we naturally reply,

Because you poets won't turn out
But are shy, Richard shy,
You're inclined to face about
And to fly, Richard, fly,
You and Tilton and the rest—
I'm afraid, Dick, that your vest
Hides a chicken heart at best.
Fie! Richard, fie?

We venture, in this place, to intrude an humble lyric of our own, expressive, as we conceive, of the style of patriotism in vogue among our New England brethren, but which, probably from a feeling of delicacy for which that people is remarkable, has found no interpreter among all the bards of the book. We have called our feeble attempt "The song of the loyal Abolitionists," and we tremblingly inscribe the lines to that distinguished domestic patriot Mr. T. Tilton:

Arm! Arm! why sit ye idle?
It is no time for words.
Through all the land the freemen
Are girding on their swords.
The bondmen's chains are clanking—
They fester on his limbs.
While you march forth to strip them off
I'll stay here and write hymns.
Strike! Strike! let every patriot man
Put on his armor now,
For scars are on the Ethiop's back
And a brand is on his brow.
Shall men whom God made free as you
Chafe 'neath their galling collars?
Not while my neighbor has a sword,
And I, three hundred dollars.
Then up and rouse, forth to the field,
Where Freedom's banner flies.
He need not fear to face his God
Who for the negro dies—
And when the Sun of Liberty
Dispels foul slavery's vapors,
Why won't we patriots show our scars—
And our exemption papers?

In reviewing what we have written we find a most unpardonable omission—Boker—our own Boker—our native Bard—our dear George has cast his into this cauldron of melody, and is entitled to high credit fer the flavor of the compound. We are unable for want of room to give any one of his pieces entire, and we would not be guilty of the sacrilege of serving up a mutilated fragment of one of those rare and polished compositions. One word, however.—His "Dirge for a Soldier" (p. 201) by some strange accident has crept into the blue and gold edition of Tennyson's poems, where it will be found on page 28. The words are somewhat differently arranged in the Tennysonian copy, but the changes are not sufficient to disguise the theft, and we would advise our bard to reclaim his property without delay and to warn the English Laureate against further peculations. The absence of an international copyright law has doubtless emboldened Tennyson in making this scandalous plagiarism.

"eye of newt and toe of frog"

We close with a simple and truly beautiful poem from the hand of a young Pennsylvanian—a modest violet peering up among the Yankee hollyhocks, sunflowers, onions and cabbage-heads which Frank Moore has gathered into his political parterre. It is called "A plaint from Savage's," and was written, we believe from the station of that name, in the summer of 1862. Its author is George Alfred Townsend, the Foreign correspondent of this journal.

I.

Alas for the pleasant peace we knew
In the happy summers of long ago,
When the rivers were bright and the skies were blue
By the home of Henrico.
We dreamed of wars that were far away,
And read, as in fable, of blood that ran,
Where the James and Chickahominy stray
Through the groves of Powhattan.

II.

'Tis a dream come true, for the afternoons
Blow bugles of war by our fields of grain,
And the sabres sink as the dark dragoons
Come galloping up the lane;
The pigeons have flown from the eaves and tiles,
The oat-blades have grown to blades of steel,
And the Huns swarm down the leafy aisles
Of the grand old Commonweal.

III.

They have torn the Indian fisher's nets
Where the gray Pamunky goes toward the sea,
And blood runs red in the rivulets
That bubbled and brawled in glee;
The corpses are strewn in Fairy Oak glades,
The hoarse guns thunder from Drury's Ridge,
The fishes that played in the cool, deep shades,
Are frightened from Bottom Bridge.

IV.

I would that the year were blotted away,
And the strawberries green in the hedge again;
That the scythe might swing in the tangled hay,
And the squirrels romp in the glen;
The walnuts sprinkle the clover slopes,
Where graze the sheep and the spotted steer;
And the winter restore the golden hopes
That were trampled in a year."

The Spring Elections.

From every part of the state come joyful tidings of Democratic triumphs and Democratic gains! The people seem to have awaked at last to a knowledge of the importance of Democratic principles. The campaign of 1864 opens gloriously in the old Keystone. But the great battle is yet to be fought! and it behooves the Democrats to be on the alert for the nefarious schemes of the enemy. Let us organize—our enemies are in the field—they are awake to the importance of the crisis—and depend upon it they will not leave a stone unturned to accomplish their purposes. Heretofore the Democratic party has been organized and drilled for every fight; but of late it seems to have degenerated almost into a mere rabble. If we expect to accomplish our purpose we must adopt system—we must work according to a plan—we must have an organization that will effect our purpose. A party that is not organized can no more expect to triumph than an army without officers and laws to govern it. If our friends throughout the state and more especially in this county will permit us to advise them, we would say: let there be regular organizations in every district, and, even sub-districts of both the county and state. Have a regular plan adopted not only to get the vote out, but to change the votes of men in the Abolition party. Have picked men for this purpose—men who can argue the principles so long sustained by the fathers of Democracy. There is not a Township or school district in the state that has not men who can change votes if the proper method is adopted. Nearly every Democrat is acquainted with the doctrines of his party as enunciated previously to the rebellion. Those principles are still unchanged. Let every man advocate them fearlessly—they preserved this nation for the last eighty years and there is virtue enough in them to save it in the present crisis. The true democrats have never changed their principles—they stand to day where they stood in 1856 and 1860. Why should they change what they have always believed previously, merely because Fort Sumpter was taken by men who were maddened by imaginary wrongs? If it be treason to enunciate those doctrines now, then was it treason in Washington and Jackson, when they uttered them years ago. If it is treason to contend for the reserved rights of the states, nonintervention with slavery, and national instead of sectional issues, then thousands of the greatest men, both in the old Whig party and the Democratic party, were traitors and have been teaching treason for the last sixty years. But they were not traitors—their doctrines were not treasonable—nor can the mere facts that a rebellion exists make them so. Let men who call themselves preeminently "loyal," call us copperheads and traitors: they will learn to their sorrow that this republic can only be saved by the men they thus denounce. Our principles are one thing—our views on this rebellion are another; and we can afford to stand all the names they choose to call us. Calling us "copperheads" does not make us snakes any more than calling a negro a white man makes him one. Beside this, hard names are the arguments of fools, and only fools use them. "Time at last makes all things even;" and we will get even with these men when ever we fearlessly assert our principles and as fearlessly maintain them. We say in conclusion, organize—adopt system, and go to work fearlessly. If you fear the military satraps of this administration you are unworthy to be either Democrats or freemen. But we know that the Democrats of Pennsylvania are not cowards, and that they will assert their rights independent of "blue coats and brass buttons," provost marshals and mobs.

The spring elections show us that the tide is turning—let us keep it in the same course. The waves of popular sentiment have been steadily flowing outward from the shore for the last three years—they now begin to flow in with the tide; and King Abraham can no more stay them by his command, than could old Canute when he sat his chair of state on the shore and commanded the waves of the sea to stay.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

No. 8.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, HARRISBURG, March 28, 1864.

DEAR GAZETTE:

Neither branch of the Legislature has been in session since Wednesday last, both houses having adjourned until this evening, in order to permit the members and senators to attend the Democratic State Convention held in Philadelphia, on Thursday last. Apropos of the Democratic Convention, I would just say that it was very largely attended and that its proceedings were harmonious and characterized by genuine patriotism. The Democracy of Pennsylvania are united and will go into the coming Presidential campaign with solid and defiant front. One universal sentiment pervades the party, viz: that Democratic success at the ballot-box alone can save the republic from utter and irretrievable ruin. Imbued with this feeling, conservative men of all shades of opinion, find a common attraction in the Democratic organization. Hence the prospect is bright, and the true friends of the Union gather hope and courage for the coming fight. There lacks but one thing to insure the triumph of the Democracy, and that is thorough, rigid, complete organization. The ranks are full, nay, overflowing, but drill and discipline are wanting. Great leaders to plan the campaign, we must have, and the exigency of the time will, doubtless, develop them. A platform on which all conservative men can stand, we must also have, and this, no doubt, will be given us by the National Convention. But the details of organization are of as great importonce as national leadership and a proper platform. Our political opponents succeeded last fall, through the perfection of the minutiæ of their party discipline. By that horoughness of their drill, they were enabled to poll every legal vote they had and from thirty thousand to fifty thousand votes that were not legal. Such was the vantage-ground on which they fought, and, depend on it, the Democracy will not find them less advantageously placed when they meet them next in line of battle. Therefore, it becomes us to organize, and to do so at once. Let the good work begin just now. There is no use waiting for systems, or plans, from state, or National committees. These will reach us too late. Now is the accepted time. Carpe diem!

The general Bounty Bill has at last become a law. I enclose you a copy. Please lay it before your readers at an early day, so that the people of Bedford county may behold the entertainment to which they are invited. I hope this law will be satisfactory to all concerned. In my own opinion, it compares very favorably with that other paragon of legislative wisdom, the Conscription Bill.—I had almost forgotten to tell you of the progress of the "free fight between the Fremont and Lincoln factions. Nearly all of the German Abolition papers support Fremont and declare they will not, in any event, support Lincoln. The surest sign of an impending convulsion in the Abolition camp, is the deprecating tone of the spoils of newspapers, toward the adherents of Fremont and Chase. A paper published here, called The Telegraph, daily teems with the most piteous complaints in regard to the threatening danger of a disruption of the Abolition party.—But I must close.

Circular.

Questions Respecting the Education of indigent Children made Orphans by the war, to be answered by Secretaries of School Boards.

The Governor, in his annual message, urges upon the Legislature the claims of "the poor orphans of our soldiers, who have given or shall give their lives to the country in this crisis," and expresses the opinion, "that their maintainance and education should be provided for by the State." Of the justice of this claim no one for an instant can doubt. The first step toward carrying out this humane suggestion of his Excellency, is to ascertain the number of such children in the State.

This can best be accomplished by the officers of the school boards, in the several counties and cities. It will be an act of benevolence that will result in good to those who have been made widows and orphans by the war. You are, therefore, requested to forward to this Department, answers to the following questions, viz:

1st. What is the number of indigent children in your school district, whose fathers have been killed, or have died in the military or naval service of the United States?

2d. Are there any institutions of learning in your county, that will undertake to provide for the maintainance and education of a number of said orphans, if security be given that all reasonable expenses shall be paid by the State?

3. If there are any such school, how many children will each take?

It is highly important that this circular, with the questions answered, be returned promptly by the fifteenth of April, if possible. This Department cannot too strongly urge upon the officers herein addressed, the necessity of prompt action in this matter. They may thereby bring joy to many a sorrow stricken, destitute family.

The State Convention,

We publish elsewhere, a synopsis of the proceedings of the state convention. It will be seen that it was very harmonious. Wm. H. Witte was elected permanent president—a compliment and an act of justice to one of the worthiest men in the state. We like the resolutions reported and passed by this convention because they are brief and to the point. We do not believe in long and windy resolutions at the present time—in our opinion they are as much out of place as a bull in a barn yard.

Lieut. John B. Helm.

This young soldier is doing honor both to his country and himself. The following order speaks for itself:

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 24. HEAD-QUARTERS, ARMY & DIST. OF N. C. NEWBERN N. C.

March 2, 1864.—The Commanding General is gratified at being enabled to announce another in the series of successful enterprises against the enemy projected by Brig. Gen. Wessells, commanding Sub-District of the Albemarle.

The camp was surprised, the arms and stores secured, and the whole company taken prisoners without loss upon our side. The affair was conducted in a severe snow-storm, and reflects much credit upon the officers and men concerned.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL PECK:
Asst. Adjt. Gen., BENJ. B. FOSTER.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State Convention met in the National Guards' Hall, Philadelphia, on Thursday last, at 12 o' clock noon, and temporarily organized by the election of THOMAS B. The usual Committees were appointed, previous to which, the Hon. WILLIAM H. WITTE, was elected permanent President of the Convention. Mr. WITTE received 94 votes, and Hon. GEORGE SANDERSON 31. The Bedford county delegation was represented on the Committees, &c., as follows: Mr. Philson on Organization, Schell, on Resolutions, and Jas. M. Reynolds, Vice President.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The Committee on Resolutions, through their Chairman, Hon. J. Glancy Jones, reported the following resolutions, which had been selected by the unanimous vote of the Committee:

Resolved, That as we have no State candidates to present to the people, and no issue involved in the coming election other than those which affect the welfare and liberties of our sister States equally with ours, we leave it to our representatives in the Chicago Convention to unite with the representatives of the other sovereignties of the North in embodying the sentiment of the people in a declaration of principles acceptable to all the States, on whom we rely to elect a President, and bring back peace and union to this distracted land.

Resolved, That the Democracy of Pennsylvania hereby express their preference for the nomination of General George B. McClellan, as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency by the Chicago convention, and that the Delegates to said Convention be instructed to vote as a unit on all questions arising therein, as a majority of the delegates shall decide.

Resolved, That the first necessary step to restore the welfare and prosperity of the American Republic is to get rid of the present corrupt Federal Administration, and the sure way to accomplish this end is a thorough organization of the time honored Democratic party, and the prevalence of union and harmony among its members.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously, without discussion.

Three cheers were proposed for General McClellan and the Union which were given with a will.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

From the Mentor.

Our Position and Duty.

Our position, as a political organization, should not be misunderstood by friend or foe. It is yet in the power of the Democracy to right the ship of State, save the country from utter ruin, and re-establish liberty on a republican basis. But to achieve this, requires faith in its possibilty; energy to work for its accomplishment; and patience to wait for the fruit.—"Faith, without works, is dead;" and work, without faith, is a weary toil. We are sorry to see some of our true, and heretofore hopeful, Democrats, sink into inertia, and indulge in despondency. We do not much wonder at it; for there are discouragements everywhere. A Constitution violated, a country ruined, and a people in tears, is enough to touch the heart, and unnerve the hands, but what shall we do? Sloth will not save us, nor despondency bring safety. Besides,

"——The darkest day,
Live till to-morrow, will have passed away."

Let us remember that labor conquers all things. The work is great, but the reward will be glorious when it is accomplished. And although we were defeated last fall, we should not be discouraged. The result was brought about by fraud. It will be our own fault if it is repeated. Even our enemies do not boast over it. They are satisfied to enjoy the fruits of their ill-gotten victory without exultation. A Democratic host of 254,000 men in a single State, and nearly two millions in the North, they know well is not to be depised. And the same reason that fills our opponents with dread, should inspire our friends with hope and activity. We stand to-day stronger in truth, stronger in light, and stronger in the hearts of the people than ever before. They cannot be blind to passing events; they cannot be indifferent to the destruction of their liberties. They see the laws trampled on; their taxes multiplied an hundred fold; and their sons slaughtered by thousands. They may view all this in silence, but they cannot see it with satisfaction. A corrective must be sought. The only hope presented is in a change of policy; and there is no hope of a change of policy, except there be first a change of administration. In this is an element of Democratic strength. We may, therefore, reasonably hope for very material accessions from the opposition ranks. And these accessions will be of the most desirable kind; of conservative men, truly disgusted with their former political associations. Here and there such men will adhere to our already mighty host; and with this augmented strength, victory is sure. Our attitude, then as a party, is most imposing and commanding. We know that some fear—and they have reason to fear from what has already been done—that if corruption and fraud cannot carry the present corrupt and fraudulent party into power again, that force will be called to their aid. This may be contingently true; but not unless the Democracy invite it. If we show a craven heart, or indifference to the result, we have nothing better to expect; for that they have the disposition to use force, when necessary, the elections in Kentucky and Maryland abundantly prove.—But if we act like freemen, conscious of our rights and determined to maintain them, there is not the slightest danger. Planting our selves upon the Constitution and laws, we should boldly resent and rebel by force if necessary, the slightest interference with our rights. Let tyrants beware, should be the watchward from Maine to California in the Democratic camps. But it should not rest in mere declaration.—Actual preparation for active resistance to forcible interference should be promptly and thoroughly made. Resolutions will not do; newspaper fulminations will not do; but complete organization, embracing every State and ramifying every township, will be effective. This organization should be political, not military but so organized that a military force could be speedily evolved, if need should require. The time for the transition would be when force should be used to prevent or control free elections. When that time comes—and we sincerely hope it may never come—the Democrat who would hesitate to repel force with force, and maintain his rights, even at the point of the sword, is an arrant coward and deserves to be a slave. We do not believe it will ever be necessary to go the extreme length of physical resistance, but the very best way to avoid it is to be prepared for it. We feel morally certain that in so doing is our best security. If we assert our rights and our manhood with manly courage, they will not be violated, and there will be no occasion for exertion of our power; but if we trust to the virtue or forbearance of our enemies, we have nothing to hope.

Let us, then, organize at once. Let there be a roll in every school district, on which every Democratic name shall be inscribed. Let us go to work in earnest. This is our country still. It is for us and our children, and wo to the craven that will surrender it to the despoiler while hope remains. We should say to Mr. Lincoln—and say in tones that could not be mistaken—"We will obey every legal obligation; but touch not our chartered liberties.—When authorized by the Constitution, you may command, and we will obey you like children; but go beyond it and we re sist you to death.

If A. Lincoln is a true man, why is every man who for the last twenty years has been advocating a dissolution of the Union his champion? If he is an honest man, why is every thief his advocate and friend? If he is true to the flag, why is it that the New York Tribune which stigmatized the Stars and Stripes "a flaunting lie," defending him? Please answer, Mr. GREELY.

Lines on the death of Maria L. Gilson.

Spirit of Louie's dwelling now
In yon bright world above,
A glorious halo round her brow,
Shed by the Savior's love.
I little thought that death so soon,
With cold and icy hand,
Would pluck thee for a gracious boon,
Unto the spirit land.
Father, we will be comforted,
Thou hast our cousin given,
We yield her up, not dead, not dead,
To dwell with Thee in Heaven.

MAGIC TIME OBSERVERS.

Being a Hunting or Open Face or Lady's or Gentleman's Watch Combined, with Patent Self-Winding Improvement, a most Pleasing Novelty.

ONE OF THE PRETTIEST, MOST CONVENIENT, AND decidedly the best and cheapest time-piece for general and reliable use ever offered. It has within it and connected with its machinery, its own winding attachment, rendering a key entirely unnecessary. The cases of this Watch are composed of two metals, the outer one being fine 16 carat gold. It has the improved ruby action lever movement, and is warranted an accurate time-piece. Price, superbly engraved, per case of half dozen, $204. Sample Watches, in neat morocco boxes, $44.

SILVER WATCHES!

First Class Hunting Time-Pieces for accuracy of movement, beauty of material, and above all, cheapness in price, these watches must insure universal approbation.

An imitation so faultless that it can hardly be detected by the most experienced judges. The material being of two metals, the outer one first quality Sterling Silver, while the inner one is German Silver, it cannot be recognized by cutting or heavy engraving, making it, not only in appearance, but in durability, the best resemblance of SOLID STERLING SILVER in existence.

The Sale of these Watches in the Army is a source of enormous profit, retailing, as they very readily do, at $25 and upwards. Many hundred dollars can be made in a single pay day by any one of ordinary business tact.

☞AT WHOLESALE ONLY! In heavy hunting cases, beautifully engraved, white enamel dial, and fancy out hands, in good running order, by the half dozen, $72. Sold only by the case of six!

Upon receipt of two dollars, as gurrantee of good faith, we will send watches by express to any part of the loyal States, collecting balance of bill on delivery. This ensures buyers against fraud, giving them their watches before payment is required. Soldiers in the disloyal states MUST remit CASH IN ADVANCE, as the express companies peremptorily refuse making collections in such dangerous localities. Remember, Cash in advance from within the army lines in rebel states! We gurrantee the safe delivery of all Watches, whether they are sent by mail or express.

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS,

ARE THE BEST PURGATIVE PILLS.
ARE THE BEST PURGATIVE PILLS.
ARE THE BEST PURGATIVE PILLS.

NO STRAINING.
NO GRIPING.
NO TENESMUS.
NO PILES

NO FALSE CALLS TO THE WATER CLOSET.

BUT A BRISK AND THOROUGH EVACUATION FROM THE BOWELS IS ALWAYS SECURED.

Newly Discovered Principles in Purgatives.

Dr. Radway's Pills are the best Purgative Pills in the world, and the only Vegetable Substitute for Calomel or Mercury ever discovered. They are composed of VEGETABLE EXTRACTS FROM ROOTS, HERBS, PLANTS, GUMS, SEEDS, FLOWERS, BARKS, FRUITS AND WEEDS, PREPARED IN VACUO.

One grain of the extract of the medicinal properties of Radway's Pills, possess a greater curative power over disease than a thousand of the crude and inert materials that enter into all other pills in use. These Pills are compounded of the active medicinal properties of the Roots, Herbs, Plants, Flowers, Gums, &c. of which they are composed. One dose will prove their superiority to all other pills. They

PURGE, CLEANSE, PURIFY, HEAL, SOOTHE, CALM, STRENGTHEN, INVIGORATE,

And REGULATE THE SYSTEM.

Their Great Combinations.

They are Aperient, Tonic, Laxative, Alterative, Stimulant, Counter Irritant, Sudorific.

AS EVACUANTS,

They are more certain and thorough than the Drastic Pills of Aloes, or Croton or Harlem Oil, or Elaterium; and more soothing and healing than Senna, or Rhubarb, or Tamarinds, or Castor Oil.

IN SUDDEN ATTACKS OF

Inflammation of the Bowels or Stomach, Liver, Spleen, Pancreas or Kidneys, Bilious Cholic or Bilious Fever, Erysipelas or Congestive Fever, Small Pox, Measles, or Scarlet Fever,

SIX TO EIGHT OF DR. RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS WILL PURGE THE PRIMARY CAUSE OF THESE FROM THE SYSTEM IN SIX HOURS.

One dose of Dr. Radway's Pills will cleanse the intestinal canal, and purge from the bowels all offending and retained humors, as thoroughly as lobelia or the best approved emetic will cleanse the stomach, without producing inflammation, irritation, weakness, or other unpleasant symptoms. There are no other purgative pills in the world that will secure this consideration.

STRAINING,

BETTER THAN CALOMEL OR BLUE PILL.
BETTER THAN CALOMEL OR BLUE PILL.
BETTER THAN CALOMEL OR BLUE PILL.

AS ALTERATIVES,

They exercise a more powerful influence over the liver and its secretions than calomel, mercury, blue pill, hence their importance in cases of Liver Complaints and Spleen Difficulties, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Bilious attacks, Headache, &c. In the treatment of Fevers, either Bilious, Yellow, Typhoid, and other reducing Fevers, they are superior to quinine. Their influence extends over the entire system, controlling, strengthening, and bracing up the relaxed and wasting energies, and regulating all the secretions to the natural performance of their duties, cleansing and purifying the blood, and purging from the system all diseased deposits and impure humors.

"I have taken six doses of Radway's Pills, of three pills each, in six days; they cured me of Constipation, Indigestion, and Dyspepsia. I have taken B——th's, A——r's, and many other pills for years, and could only obtain temporary relief. If I stopped the use of these pills for a week my old complaint would appear. Six doses of Radway's Pills cured me.

STEPHEN BENNETT, U. S. C. S."

"I have suffered with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint for seven years—have used all sorts of pills—they would give me temporary comfort, but was compelled to take them all the time. I have used one box of Dr. Radway's Pills; I am cured. I have not taken a particle of medicine in six months.

C. M. CHILDS, Roxbury, Mass.

PILES, STRAINING AND TENESMUS,
PILES, STRAINING AND TENESMUS,

Are the results of inflammation or irritation of the mucous membrane of the bowels, induced by drastic pills—these imperfect pills, instead of being dissolved by the chile, are carried to the lower bowels, and induce a peristaltic movement or evacuation by their irritation—hence the straining, cramps, wrenching pains, piles and tenesmus, and the frequent false calls to the water closet, that patients undergo who take these imperfect pills.

If you would avoid these annoyances, whenever a purgative medicine is required, take a dose of

RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS.

THEY WILL PURGE THOROUGHLY AND LEAVE THE BOWELS REGULAR.

Persons afflicted with PILES, may rely on a positive cure by their use.

From the Rev. Levi G. Beck, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pemberton, N. J., formerly of the North Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

* * * * * * * * * * *

I have known Hoofland's German Bitters favorably for a number of years. I have used them in my own family, and have been so pleased with their effects that I was induced to recommend them to many others, and know that they have operated in a strikingly beneficial manner. I take pleasure in thus publicly proclaiming this fact, and calling the attention of those afflicted with the diseases for which they are recommended, to these Bitters, knowing from experience that my recommendation will be sustained. I do this more cheerfully as Hoofland's Bitters is intended to benefit the afflicted, and is "not a rum drink." Yours truly,

LEVI G. BECK.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge, and Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend, Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN, Philad'a.

From the Rev. Jos. H. Kennard, Pastor of the 10th Baptist Church.

Dr. Jackson:—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with commendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above cause.

Yours, very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD.
Eighth below Coates st., Phil'a.

From Rev. Warren Randolph, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Germantown, Penn.

Dr. C. M. Jackson:—Dear Sir:—Personal experience enables me to say that I regard the German Bitters prepared by you as a most excellent medicine. In cases of severe cold and general debility I have been greatly benefited by the use of the Bitters, and doubt not they will produce similar effects on others. Yours truly, WARREN RANDOLPH,
Germantown, Pa.

From Rev. J. H. Turner, Pastor of Hedding M. E. Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson:—Dear Sir:—Having used your German Bitters in my family frequently, I am prepared to say that it has been of great service.

Yours respectfully, J. H. TURNER,
No. 726 N. Nineteenth Street

From the Rev. J. M. Lyons, formerly Pastor of the Columbus (N. J.) and Millestown (Pa.) Baptist Churches.

New Rochelle, N. Y.

Dr. C. M. Jackson:—Dear Sir:—I feel it a pleasure thus, of my own accord, to bear testimony to the excellence of the German Bitters. Some years since being much afflicted with Dyspepsia, I used them with very beneficial results. J. M. LYONS.

From Rev. J. S. Herman, of the German Reformed Church, Kutztown, Berks co., Pa.

Dr. C. M. Jackson:—Respected Sir:—I have been troubled with Dyspepsia nearly twenty years, and have never used any medicine that did me as much good as Hoofland's Bitters. Yours, with respect,

J. S. HERMAN.

The Publishers of The Age could easily fill their columns with the unsought and most liberal commendations of the press throughout the country, but they prefer that it should stand altogether upon claims to public confidence, well known and established. They believe it has acquired this reputation by the candor, fearlessness and independence with which it has been conducted, through times of extraordinary confusion of ideas on public subjects, and latterly of almost unexampled public trial. It is now, and will be, as heretofore, the supporter of truly national principles, opposed alike to radicalism and fanaticism in every form, and devoted to the main tenance of good government, law and order.

The Publishers of the Age conceive that it thus renders peculiar services and has peculiar claims upon all men by whom its principles are valued, and who, by the proper means, look to promote and secure the Constitutional restoration of the Union. These can best show their sense of the untiring efforts of the publisher, in behalf of this great and unparalleled cause, by earnestly sustaining this paper in all its business relations,
